NEW LEADERS IN RHEUMATOLOGY BOOTCAMP

Are you a new leader with 0-3 years of management experience looking for “Basic Training” to help your providers run a top-notch practice? If so, our New Leaders in Rheumatology Bootcamp is designed just for you! During this intensive, one-day course, you will be exposed to the basic topics and key benchmarks needed to run a successful practice and be a more effective leader. This will be a great opportunity to network with a group of people just like you, led by a cohort of helpful instructors who have been in your shoes. The Bootcamp is a pre-conference activity scheduled for Thursday, September 21, 2023, and is ONLY open to NORM members who are registered to attend the 2023 Annual Conference in person. Each participant will receive a certificate of completion upon the completion of the course. Seating is limited to 40 participants, so be sure to register early so you can reserve your seat. The cost is $75.00. You can sign up for the bootcamp during online registration.

Bridging the Future of Rheumatology

Embrace the Change!

Without a doubt, the only constant in healthcare is change. That concept has certainly been on the NORM Board’s mind in planning our 2023 Annual Meeting. We are excited for you to join us at the Marriott Marquis in San Francisco, CA on September 21-23!

As we construct our rheumatology superstructure for the future, it will be important for us to hear from industry experts such as Ron Howrigan about predictions for healthcare and rheumatology in the next 5 years, as well as The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI) as to what models may be options for a successful future in rheumatology. It will be equally important for us to look inward with Susan Childs to assess our emotional intelligence as we prepare for these changes.

Excellent substructures are imperative for a strong future. Toward this end, we will be educated on internal auditing techniques using practical case studies. We must be sure to have a good footing when managing appeals and denials, and we will learn from each other regarding hiring, retention, and GPO needs. Our outstanding NORM Education Committee will enlighten us on the question of whether To Infuse or Not to Infuse. We will be taught the skills to perform a “Well Visit” checkup on our practices as well as learn how to compare peer benchmark measures with your operations.

We will span across specialties to hear from Ricky Newton with Community Oncology Alliance about the Need to Lead to obtain the best outcomes for the future. We will also arch into the issue of compensation models in rheumatology and will hear from a distinguished panel as to developing a positive and productive relationship with your providers. Our capstone will be the dynamic Joe Mull who will close us out with How to Activate People and Cultivate Commitment.

There will be plenty of opportunities to establish and strengthen ties with friends, colleagues, and industry partners. Be prepared to GLOW Friday night as we have a FUN and unique experience in store. As always, you can count on good times, good food, and good prizes!

We look forward to seeing you in San Francisco and Embracing the Change together!
